

Deep Cut

Time To Kill

This is the eleventh in a series of singles released by London live night/record label Club AC30. The series is called As & When, and will follow the same general format of limited edition numbered 7" and digital release. The theme is "bands we like" and the frequency is "as & when".

East London band Deep Cut return to the fray with a brand new single, and very soon, their debut album. Last year's excellent Commodity single turned a few heads, and since then the band has been quietly gigging around London and recording new songs. The first fruits of these recordings is Time To Kill, an edited version is available as this limited 7" and digital release backed with a Tim Holmes mix of a second album track Just Chasing.

The songs are about lifechanging decisions, being trapped by society, impossible social situations, personal confusion, feeling undervalued, the breakdown of friendships, paranormal activity, watching loved ones losing control, premeditated murder, the wasting of life....

Enjoy!

Deep Cut's debut album My Thoughts Light Fires will be released by Club AC30 in January.
